REBELS FAIL TO TAKE MAZATLAN IN LONG BATTLE

Federals Inflict Severe Losses On Troops Making Attack

GOVERNMENT NOW LAUNCHES DRIVE

Soldiers Save American From Execution By Bandits

Mexico City, Mar. 25.—With federal troops still holding Mazatlan after repulsing and inflicting heavy losses on the rebel force which was beleaguered in the city for more than two days, two new government offensives began today for the subduing of the rebellion in the states of Sinaloa, Sonora and Chihuahua.

At dawn today, General Lazaro Cardenas, leading an expeditionary force of 12,000 federal troops moved northward out of Tepic, capital of the state of Nayarit, and headed for Sinaloa, and Sonora with the determination of the rebels besieging Mazatlan as his first objective.

Almost simultaneously, General J. Andreu Almazan, leading 13,000 troops, set out from Hermosillo, in the northwestern part of the state of Durango, and headed for Jimenez, Chihuahua, where the main body of rebels who recently evacuated Torreon are still believed to be concentrated.

A bulletin issued by President Portes Gil early this morning stated that the vanguard of General Cardenas' army, led by General Perez, entered the town of Rosario, Sinaloa, 60 miles south of Mazatlan, yesterday just in time to save the life of an American, whom bandits were about to execute.

The name of the American was not given, but he was said to be the manager of the offices of an American company there.

When the federal entered the city, the American was backed to a cemetery wall and the bandits threatened to shoot him unless he gave them more money. Mr. told General Perez, he had already given them 1,000 pesos.

The government troops killed three of the bandits and several others fled. General Perez declared (Continued on Page 4)

SCHOOL GROUP HOLDS FROLIC

Large Gathering Attends Hi-Y Fun Night For 1929

The largest gathering ever assembled at a Salem High school social event, convened at the school gymnasium, Saturday night, for the annual "Fun Festival," sponsored by the boys' Hi-Y club. More than 400 students and teachers were present at the occasion, one of the outstanding social highlights of the school term.

A cabaret chorus of the school's "male beauties" illustrating the latest New York dance hits was one of the leading items of the evening. Dressed in chorus girl regalia of abbreviated silks and satins, the following composed the troupe:

Er. Sidinger, Fred Guilford, Ralph Phillips, Glenn Whinnery, John Terry, Ronald Hutchins, Jim Wingard, Robert Van Blarcom, Robert Cope and Warren Todd.

Adele Treat was honored in an election by the student body, being selected "Queen" of the occasion. She was dressed in a pink georgette evening gown with silver slippers.

Wade Loop, president of the Hi-Y club, was master of ceremonies.

Edie Morrison, entertained with a Dutch dance and song, and a male quartet from the Allen Institute of Music, of Alliance, sang several popular numbers.

The cabaret effect was carried out to a superlative degree. Boys attended with suspenders flaringly displayed over plain shirts. Neckties were taboo, as were coats. Girls appeared in house dresses.

Prizes for best posters drawn to advertise the party in classrooms were awarded to Adelaide Dyball, Fred Paxson and Bernice Smith.

Low Platt's Southern Collegians furnished the music for the dancing, which concluded the evening's entertainment.

BULLET VICTIM NOW IMPROVING

Alliance Youth Rallyes Following Operation Which Fails To Locate Bullet

Alliance, Mar. 25.—Alfred Davis of Alliance is recovering at Mercy hospital, Canton, from the operation Friday in an effort to remove the bullet from his neck.

Surgeons were unable to find the bullet, which they believe dropped into the spinal channel.

Not other operation is planned at present, according to relatives.

Davis rallied from the operation and seemed much better Saturday, relatives said.

Seek Safety On American Soil

SENORA MARCELA CARAVEO, left, wife of the rebel governor of Chihuahua, Mexico, and Senora J. G. Escobar, right, wife of the rebel chief, have been rushed by special train from the war zone to insure their safety. Senoras Caraveo and Escobar are now in El Paso, Tex.

Colder Weather In Sight For Week

Columbus, O., March 25.—By the "much colder" prediction in the Ohio weather forecast for today is meant a 40 degree temperature, weather observers here declared. The showers will be light. A 40 degree temperature is normal for this time of the year, they said.

Yesterday's temperatures in Ohio mounted from 76 to 84 degrees, the latter being registered in Cincinnati.

LONG DISTANCE CALLS CHANGED

Phone Users Should Now Inform Operator Of City Wanted

Out of town telephone calls are now being handled in a new manner in East Palestine, Columbiana, Leetonia, New Waterford and Salem according to H. M. Huffman, commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone company.

The new plan simplifies placing calls to other cities and the obtaining of information on such calls. Formerly certain calls were made by asking for the long distance operator, but it is now necessary only to tell the local operator what city the person calling desires to reach.

She will either make the connection, or say, "I will give you long distance."

Thus the system is simplified for telephone users in that they leave the responsibility for the proper placing of the call with the local operator.

The change will mean greater convenience for patrons in the area affected and, if anything, will speed up the service, Huffman said. If the patron is able to furnish the number to be called, the call will be completed while he holds the line. He may obtain the number by calling the long distance information operator.

This simplified plan of operation makes it practically as easy to make an out-of-town call as it is to call a neighbor, according to Huffman.

TRUCK OVERLOAD CAUSES ARREST

Pittsburgh Man Fined By Judge After Load Is Found Too Heavy For Highways

Lisbon, March 25.—Sid Thomas of Pittsburgh, Pa., driver of an overloaded truck was fined $25 and costs by Judge Lodge Riddle following the filing of a charge against him by Sheriff William J. Barlow. The truck was owned by P. R. Anderson of Pittsburgh, who paid the fine and costs. The truck was stopped between West Point and Crawford on the Lincoln highway and weighed.

"REAL WAGE" COMPARISONS

The National Industrial Conference board, of New York City, has just given out some very interesting figures on the relative wage rates paid in the United States and European countries measured by the prices of food and rents. The figures show that the purchasing power of American wages, thus measured, ranged from one-third to four times greater than those paid in October of last year in the various countries of Europe. The analysis of foreign wages was based on figures given out by the international labor office of the League of Nations.

"The American wage-earner's economic status," according to the board's statement, "not only remains considerably higher than that of his fellows in foreign countries, but the gap between the American and foreign purchasing power of wages, as measured in buying food and shelter in their own countries, has noticeably widened during the last three years."

The board's figures show that the greatest changes in the relative value of "real wages" paid in foreign countries to the value of "real wages"—wages figured by their purchasing power in food and rent—during the 1925-1928 period were in Denmark and Canada. The American wage-earner's position showing improvement over the positions of the wage-earners of both those countries.

The Canadian "real wage" in October, 1928, according to the statement, was eighty per cent of the American real wage, against eighty-eight per cent in October, 1925, and the Danish was fifty-seven per cent of the American in October, 1928, seven per cent less than in October, 1925.

The "real wage" in Great Britain and Sweden showed no change in relation to the American wage, being thirty-five per cent and forty-six per cent, respectively, in the same month, October, of the years 1925 and 1928. The German wage also held closely, dropping only one per cent in the three years to thirty-four per cent of the American wage.

The statistics, which were gathered in either the chief or a representative city of each country, give the following comparative prices on a given lot of specified provisions in September, 1928, in the following cities: Philadelphia, $2.20; Ottawa, $1.90; Copenhagen, $1.85; Vienna, $1.80; Berlin, $1.76; Dublin, $1.72; London, $1.64; Rome, $1.54; Amsterdam, $1.45; Warsaw, $1.38; Prague, $1.36 and Brussels, $1.22.

Thus it may be seen the stories of the cheap living to be had in foreign cities is largely illusory, when the same quality of living is enjoyed. For example, while the London wage-earner pays but $1.64 for the same food which costs the Philadelphia wage-earner $2.20, he draws but thirty-five per cent of the American worker's wage. The wage-earner of a given supply of food, but he draws but forty-six per cent of the pay of the American worker. And the story is the same all up and down the list.

Never in the history of the world was the condition of the wage-earner so good as that of the American wage-earner today. It has attracted and holds the attention of labor the world over.

What Others Say

ELIMINATING AMBER LIGHT
They have been experimenting in Cleveland with the elimination of the amber signal in the traffic lights and using only the red and the green. The tests have proved successful in downtown streets and the simplified system is being extended throughout the city. Where it has been tried a marked diminution of the number of drivers who disobey the traffic signals has been observed and recorded.

The impulse of a driver approaching a traffic light is to keep on and cross the green when the green light goes off and the amber light comes on as he nears the intersection.

tion. He feels that he has a few seconds of grace, though the traffic regulations say no. The impulse of a driver stopped at a red light is to start the instant the amber light appears. He too feels that he has a few seconds of grace, though the traffic regulations say no. When the moving driver and the stationary driver act on their similar impulses at the same time, as they frequently do, there is likely to be a collision.

Perhaps the psychological effect of the elimination of the amber light would be permanently good. A driver would be more likely to stop when the red light flashed in his face than he is when the amber light appears, because he would not even imagine he had a few seconds of grace. And the stationary driver, waiting for his signal, would be less likely to start too soon with the red light against him all the time until it changed to green. It seems as if the elimination of the amber light might be a reform that really would improve existing conditions.—Ohio State Journal.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, March 26

THE presage cast upon the planetary configurations for this day must be fraught with indifference. While the lunar aspect promises a most mediocre and listless state of affairs, yet a solar relationship to the two planets of indecision, surprise and eccentricity make it impossible to define the auspices. Peculiar, subtle, intriguing, unconventional are words to classify the prospect. Change seems imminent, but be cautious.

These whose birthday it is may have a year of unusual or irregular experiences and events. These are not entirely menacing, but call for discretion, especially as to change or travel. A child born on this day is likely to be endowed with some subtle or unusual talents and qualities in diplomacy, travel science, or in methods of conspiracy or intrigue it may find its success even reign.

How light a chance may raise or sink a soul—Bailey.

PAIN SPASMS OFTEN
DUE TO OCCUPATIONBY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

These muscles of ours have a habit of rebelling against continued wrong use made of them. They are patient, but if the demands are too great they will speak out in meeting.

In the medical books we read about "occupational neuroses." What in the world are these? These are the spasms or localised pains which follow abuse of the muscles. One example is the condition called "writer's cramp."

Telegraph operators, piano players, dress-makers, typists are liable to these symptoms. In any occupation where long continued, monotonous muscular efforts are required in the work one of these ailments may appear.

Persons who have good health are not liable to have such trouble.

Nervous people—what we call "neurotic" persons—are more likely to suffer these attacks.

The onset of writer's cramp is marked by dull ache or tired feeling in the wrist and hand. Then there is a spasm of marked contraction of the muscles of the arm and wrist.

There will probably be trembling of the hand and fingers. All the symptoms are made very much worse by attempting to work.

This trouble is different from neuralgia or neuritis. There is no tenderness on pressure. The nerves are not at all sensitive. But, as I have said, every effort to use the muscles in their ordinary occupation will bring on the symptoms or make them much worse.

The cure is accomplished by prolonged rest. Nothing else will do more than to give temporary relief. Massage, baking, out of door life, lots of rest and sleep and upholding of the general health will do wonders. But rest or change of work is essential.

I wish we could get people to take care of themselves. Of course our social system is so defective that thousands of men and women are forced to work long hours under evil conditions. The bread and butter problem makes it necessary to work hour after hour, and in consequence the nervous system cracks or breaks.

When we get wiser as a people and show better sense as individuals the occupational neuroses will disappear. But alas! that joyful day is not here. It will come, but in the meantime, we must do the best we can with those who suffer the effects of overwork and overworry.

"Change of work is play," is an old saying and a true one. Those unfortunate persons who have a tendency to such cramps as I have described should keep this saying in mind. Frequent periods of change to muscular effort will help to prevent the onset of this trouble.

If you have actually developed writer's cramp or any similar ailment, there must be complete rest. Every attention to the upbuilding of nerves and health are necessary.

Perfect nourishment of the body will prevent and help to cure the ailment. Foods must be well selected. The green vegetables and other vitamin carrying foods are important.

A ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Why don't we keep this in mind? If we did the doctors would be out of business. Too many of their patients are seeking relief because of the violation of Nature's laws.

High Points Of Salem Sermons

REV. G. D. KEISTER, PASTOR
Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church

"Herod was glad to see Jesus. His joy was exceeding. The occasion was one to which he had long looked forward.

"It interests us to know why wicked, dissolute Herod longed to see Jesus. The motives were not worthy. It was only that he might behold a miracle done by Jesus. May I desire to drink in some of Christ's wisdom. Yes, Herod may have eagerly desired to show that over this King of Kings, he had worldly dominion.

"At these confirmation services these confirmands have expressed a desire to know more about the Savior of the world. They would desire to become actively engaged in the work and blessing of the church. They have been duly instructed in the principles of Christian life and the doctrines of the Lutheran church. They are now able to give the reason of the faith which they have publicly confessed.

"Confirmation dates back very early in the life of the church. It is the renewal of the baptismal covenant and the public personal repetition of the confession and the vows made by the sponsors or parents at baptism.

"We ask, what are proper motives for anyone to desire a closer walk with Christ and a clearer vision of Him as Savior and Lord.

"First—An understanding faith. Do you know what you believe? Is your faith as a clear beacon or is it only a dim candle that flickers in the darkness? May we see Jesus so that we know of Him and His church, may be as a light unto our pathway.

"Second—Privileges of church membership. Do we speak correctly in using the word, 'privileges'? Of this we are sure. These confirmands will realize from year to year that to be embodied in the visible Church of our Lord is a most blessed part of the Christian life.

"Third—Public confession of Christ. Secret disciples can exist. They are very scarce. Grace and blessing come to any one who in the presence of fellow-believers confesses the life and faith as found in Jesus our Lord."

REV. A. C. WESTPHAL
First Baptist Church

The First Revival was the subject of Rev. A. C. Westphal's sermon Sunday morning at the First Baptist church. He said:

"The first revival is commonly thought of as being on the Day of Pentecost, when a great multitude, about 3000 came under conviction, and yielded to God. This was a great revival, and one that we covet repetition of. However, before that revival, there was one held with Jesus as the preacher. It was around the Last Supper. Jesus was frankly dealing with the problems of His disciples as should be done in revivals. He put his finger on sin, as should be done. He accused one of being a devil. When such frankness prevailed it started a blaze of revival in the hearts of all present. It set them to heart searching. The greatest question ever asked at a revival, is the one each asked of Jesus that night, for each said, 'Lord, is it I?' If we are to have a revival such as Pentecost yielded, we must begin with the disciples, in that close communion with God, and earnestly ask Him, 'Lord, is it I?' Too many times we look at our neighbor and point the finger at him and say, 'Lord, it's him,' when we ought to be saying, 'Lord, is it I?'

he believed they were members of the rebel army.

President Portes Gil also stated this morning that General Jaime Carrillo, commander of the federal garrison at Mazatlan had informed him that the rebels attacking the city had been repulsed completely.

Carrillo estimated that fully one-fourth of the rebel force under Gen. Roberto Cruz, or about 1,200 men, had been wiped out in repeated attacks upon the federal entrenchments in the hills surrounding the seaport.

According to Carrillo, each time the rebels attacked they were raked by terrific machine gun fire which mowed them down by the hundreds. The latest information from Carrillo stated that the rebels had fallen back beyond the range of the defenders. The federal commander also reported that Gen. Cruz's cavalry headed south late yesterday.

Miss Louise Smith entertained a few of her friends from Mt. Union college, Alliance, Saturday evening at her home, Garfield ave.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Gripe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief as effectively as the messy old mustard plaster.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

Watch for this danger signal—a dirty ring around the washtubs

Have you seen it in your washtubs? Of course you have! Do you know what it means? Of course you know that it means the washing has been done in hard water. Soap combined with the hardness and made suds. The suds collected dirt, some went into the clothes, some formed the dirty ring.

Softened hard water with Melo and it becomes a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. No dirty ring! White clothes! Soap saved, from 1/4 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. Use Melo wherever you need soft water. Notice how much more effective the soap is! Get Melo at your grocer's.

SHIP SINKING

The ship's home port, he said, was Montreal, and she was owned by the Im Alone Transportation company. He identified the dead seaman as Leon Mangay, a native of St. Pierre, Miquelon, a French possession.

Capt. Randall said he was 49 years old, and was born in Trinity, Newfoundland. He is a resident of Liverpool, Nova Scotia, he declared. He asserted he was a Master Mariner and that he carried a Master O. & C. license that was issued at Cardiff, Wales.

The greatest secrecy was maintained regarding the investigation until late last night. Captain Gamble then gave the following outline of what had happened in the chase and sinking of the ship:

"The cutter Walcott sighted the Im Alone at six o'clock Thursday morning eleven miles off the Louisiana coast near Marsh Island. The vessel was apparently anchored and awaiting boats to get the cargo, said to be 2400 cases of whiskey, loaded at Belize, Honduras."

The vessel sped away. The Walcott followed with usual signals, later commanding the skipper to heave to. The order was defied.

"Then the Walcott fired blank shots and, later, solid shots through the rigging of the two-masted schooner."

"The schooner's skipper then shouted, through the megaphone, permission for Commander Frank Paul of the Walcott to come aboard, unarmed, and without an escort, for a conference. Following a brief conference the commander departed upon Captain Randall's refusal to submit to seizure and the chase through choppy seas was resumed, continuing until Friday morning."

"When the Dexter demanded that the schooner heave to, she was answered with a threat to shoot the first man to board the ship. The Dexter then fired blanks and later solid shots hitting the rigging away but the schooner, equipped with two powerful gas engines, was making rapid headway for Mexican waters safety about 100 miles distant, when the sails were crippled."

"Crew Leaps Overboard"

"When the three-inch gun hit the hull the crew leaped overboard but the lifeboats had been shot away and the men began swimming as the schooner sank. It went to the bottom in an hour carrying with it all tangible evidence."

The all-day examination had been in charge of Assistant Attorney General Henderson who came here from Washington to handle the case.

Captain Gamble and H. W. Crayton, supervising agent of customs here, report that the schooner was exceedingly swift and would likely have reached Mexican waters if the rigging had not been ripped away.

The British consul here was reported to be "investigating and awaiting instructions." He was expected to make a statement late today after further consultations with coast guard officials.

FLOODS

away on the roof of their camp cabin by an overflow of White creek. Nearly a score of other scouts were rescued.

Three additional deaths were reported today from Webster, Tenn., and four from Kentucky, where, it was estimated more than 5,000 persons are homeless.

Three boys were drowned at Darrowville, Ky., and another perished in the flood waters of the Cumberland river at Pineville.

Skiff Upsets in River

Four deaths indirectly attributable to the flood occurred on the Warrior river near Birmingham, Ala., when a skiff was overturned.

The new flood menace in that state was reported improved today. They are still nearly 25,000 flood refugees in Alabama, left by the disaster of ten days ago.

Fifteen persons were killed by cyclones which struck sections from Louisiana to Virginia, some score were injured and considerable property was damaged.

While the streams around Harrison and Rockwood, Tenn., were receding, as were the upper reaches and tributaries of the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers, danger still lurked in the lower parts of the two major streams, which empty into the Mississippi, now more than five feet above flood stage at Memphis.

Engineers were patrolling the levees for weak spots.

The Cumberland river was at flood stage as far south as Nashville and low sections of the city were under water.

Along the Emory river near Harrison, many big agricultural plants were washed out by the flood.

Business College Heavy Favorites Over Seiberlings Tonight

Bad Showing Of Tires In Second Half Gives Collegians Wide Edge

The Salem Seiberling Tires, finishing in a tie for sixth place in the city basketball league, with only two wins in four starts, are conceded only an under-dog's chance of pulling through with a victory over the Business College outfit, in the opening contest of the three-game championship at Memorial gym tonight.

The S. B. C. combine topped the final half with the best record of the year, winning six straight games. Together with its loop record, the college five has amassed a fine total of wins in outside contests, playing about 20 games in regularly scheduled games with high school teams. The whole season is one of marked success for the collegians.

The Tires can hardly boast a record equal to the college, losing both of their games played with outside teams, and in the second half, put up a consistently poor exhibition of ball. Unless the team finds itself and plays a different brand of ball, the college should romp to a decisive victory.

One of the biggest reasons why fans figure the Seiberlings as under-dogs, is the comparison of the scores which they and the college compiled in clashes with the United Cigars. The Cigars easily trimmed the Tires, and in turn the collegians put the hooks to Scott Chisholm's team, 36-16.

What this may mean is problematical, as does generally fail to run true, but the contrast is a mighty good illustration of what each team can do, if one is going good and the other poorly.

Officials
The fracas will start at 8 o'clock. The official has not been named as yet, but according to a previous announcement by Joe Kelley, either McPhee, of Youngstown, or Davey Williams, of Girard, will referee with the regular loop official, Raphael Reasbeck, as umpire.

The second game will be played at the same time tomorrow night, and if a third is necessary, the time has been set for Thursday night, at 8 o'clock. Packed houses are expected for each battle.

The probable lineups for each team follow:

Spring, the prima donna of the seasons, mare her 1929 rebut last week and with the premier came the opening of the fishing season. That long blank spell after hunting, when lakes are frozen and stream fish are not active, is a thing of the past and the tackle can be broken out of storage and put in shape, ready for another season's campaigning on lakes and streams.

The very earliest of the Ohio fishermen have been to streams in search of chubs and suckers. Then later will come the crappie (shad) fishermen and those craving a jaunt for early season bass.

Signs used to mean a lot more than they do in present days. It used to be that garden planting, butchering and many other things were based on signs. Today printed reports, scientific data and other things have changed the line of march over days gone by.

But still there are few among us who do not believe in signs, unless they refer to "no parking" or other man-made ordinances. I believe in signs and have been awaiting anxiously for fish worms to work near the surface. I figure that when they come up, nature is preparing food for hungry fish and that incidentally fishy appetites are whetted up.

The fish worms appeared last week and that meant that fish were ready to bite.

I know that there were fishermen abroad for the last two weeks, despite high water, for I saw them. And I was not on a sight-seeing tour myself, although I might as well have been.

Although this early fishing will net a few suckers, chubs and in the larger streams a carp or two, the real season seems to open when we can take a pail of minnows and go out in a boat or fish the bank for crappie.

We are indeed fortunate to have this prolific fellow to whet our appetites for the regular season. The crappie seems to stand up better under heavy fishing, and other conditions that tend to decrease fish, than any we have with us.

Many Ohio lakes are full of them and they are far from being fastidious. They are fast biters and not to be despised as a pan fish. Later in the year some do not favor them.

Bass, too, are abroad. The finest string of bass I ever saw taken in Ohio, and one of the finest I ever saw, came from a lake not many miles from Salem in the first week of April last year.

There was one that weighed over four pounds, two that topped the three-pound mark and two that were better than two pounds. All of them were caught by one man, who quit and went home after 45 minutes of fishing. This was in face of the fact that the law allowed him seven more.

It won't be long now!

The Thrifty Buyer Does Her Shopping At Home Reading The Merchants Advertisements

Then Goes Direct To The Stores For Her Needs

EVERY time you make a purchase you make a choice. Buying a certain product may be so much a matter of habit that you don't realize you are choosing. But the fact remains that in accepting one brand of goods you are always rejecting others; and the satisfaction you get from what you buy depends on the knowledge of quality and values that guide your selection.

How do you know which bed-sheets, or which roofing material, or which radio will give you service you require? You can't personally test everything you buy and compare it with all the other products in its class. But there is a way to find out which brand fits your needs.

The people who are most successful in their buying—who achieve the highest percentage of satisfaction from the things they own and use—are those who consistently read the advertising columns, and buy consistently advertised goods.

Choosing isn't just "guessing" when you follow the guidance of the advertisements.

You Can Depend On Advertised Goods. It Pays to Read the Advertisements.

The Grand, for the first three days this week will present something new in the line of entertainment. The presentation is billed as "Three Big Jazz Days" and features Lew Platt and His Southern Collegians.

The orchestra brings 11 stellar entertainers, with "Smoke" Art, Kenny Livermore and "Little Sunshine" in addition to the Salem quartet, Platt, Eddie Slinger, Chuck Leach and Nick Nedelka. It is undoubtedly one of Ohio's leading musical groups.

On the screen will be:

"THE DRAG NET"

George Bancroft, William Powell and Evelyn Brent are the featured cinema performers in the photoplay, a characterization of continuing incidents of the underworld, as it really is in many places.

"THE MAN WHO LAUGHS"

A blending of the terrible with the sublime of the monstrous with the magnificent—that is just a small part of the story of the achievement of the Universal picture of Victor Hugo's classic "The Man Who Laughs," presented at the Royal Theater tonight. Carl Laemmle, has certainly adapted the great French writer, for this is the third of Hugo's masterpieces that Universal has filmed. And it climbs the pinnacle of stupendous perfection. It is the story of England, in the eighteenth century, when England was overrun with Congenial—cypriotes—who bought, sold and disfigured children.

Conrad Veidt as Gwynplaine gives one of the most inspired performances we have ever been privileged to see. His distorted face, with its horrible eternal grin, yet tender and sweet, is a triumph. It is a characterization of horror that is beautiful, truly a paradox.

Mary Plunkin is the blind girl, and her exquisite. The love scenes of the two creatures of fate own a heart-ripping beauty. Especially the moment when Gwynplaine lets her feel his distorted mouth, that she may know his disfigurement.

Constance Grady gives a moving performance as Ursula, friend of the couple since their childhood and proprietor of the traveling show featuring "the man who laughs."

Olya Badanova is the dizzy Duchess who goes to the fair instead of to Anne's royal court and falls in love with the frightful clown.

Queen Anne is dead, but Josephine Crowell certainly has resurrected her; it is a living portrait.

There are so many wonderful, even fearful, scenes that it is difficult to single them out in this film.

There are times when the picture becomes almost gruesome in its stark horror of some of the terrors of so-called "Merrie England," for there are glimpses of a man being tortured in the "Iron Lady," and bodies hanging from gibbets, and fearsome dungeons. But for those that care for the unusual and want to be thrilled by wonderful acting, "The Man Who Laughs" is waiting to bring before them an inspired picture of one of the greatest

"THE WHITE SISTER"

"The White Sister," the greatest triumph of Lillian Gish's career, will return to the State theatre tonight and Tuesday.

"The White Sister," an inspiration production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has been acclaimed one of the most significant films ever made. The story was taken from the famous novel by P. Marion Crawford and screened entirely in Italy and northern Africa.

Rome, Naples, Sorrento, Tivoli, and even Mt. Vesuvius were some of the "locations" used, and the result, according to critics, is the most beautiful production yet made.

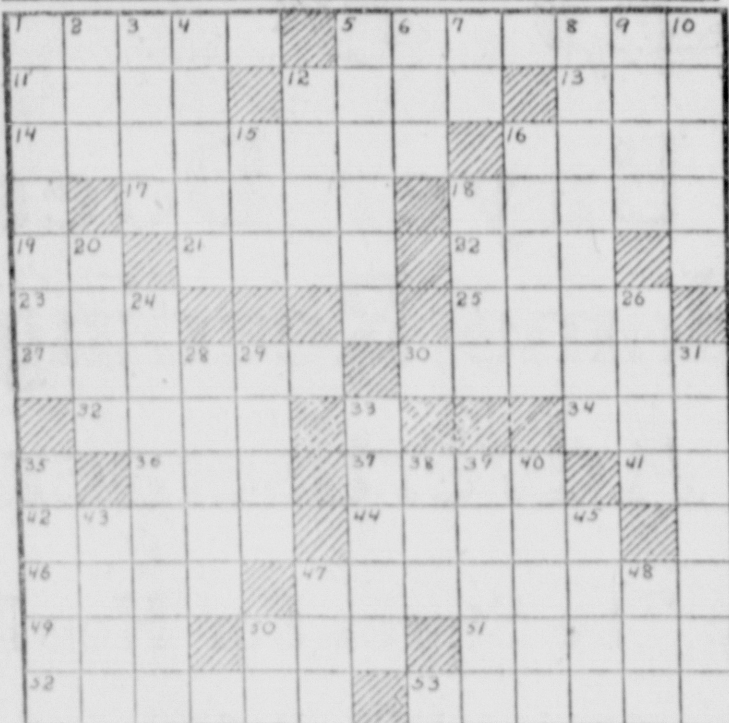

Besides Miss Gish to interpret the thrilling story, the cast includes Ronald Colman, who is featured with the star, heroine of many Broadway successes, and a thousand others drawn from the ranks of European players.

Vesuvius in eruption, the gates of a reservoir burst open by the on-rushing volume of burning lava, the inhabitants of the valley towns fleeing in terror from the twin horrors of fire and water.

The screen never actually caught such scenes until last Spring, when King and Lillian Gish set forth to Italy to film P. Marion Crawford's world-renowned novel.

The eruption of Vesuvius is but the thrilling climax of "The White Sister," which is a powerful love story based on an eternal theme,

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Home Cook Has Advantage When It Comes to Preparing Bacon

There are many restaurant dishes with which the young home cook competes in vain. He has perhaps told her of some delicacy eaten at a swanky grill, something he likes especially, and can't she make it at home? And as men rarely able to recall the unparalleled flavor, they are not much help in getting it duplicated at home. (Unless she has an instinct about such things.)

However, there's one item which any housekeeper can prepare with better results than most restaurants. It's one of our most common foods, and an American restaurant could hardly do business without it. Yet, because home cooks watchful treatment from the beginning of its cooking to the moment of serving, and because few restaurants can afford to give it as much care as the housewife is willing to, she has the advantage.

Slicing makes a great deal of difference in the texture and flavor of bacon, and no one, not even the corner butcher with his sharp, razor-edge knife, can cut slices as thin, and even as one gets them in the packages of bacon mechanically sliced. Good bacon is evenly streaked with fat and lean, and all the slices are alike. There should be no odds and ends of small slices with irregular or torn edges.

When you begin to cook the bacon, put the serving plates where they will keep hot. Bacon cooks quickly, and in order to stay hot until served, should be transferred from pan to hot plate and left in a warm spot until the moment of serving. (Apparently this is one of the impossible feats for the average restaurant.)

How To Fry Bacon

Put the slices of cold bacon in a cold frying pan. Light a small flame and let it cook slowly. When fat begins to run, spin it off and keep in a glass jar or crock. It will come in handy frequently for frying vegetables, eggs, or meats. When spearing off the fat, turn slices of bacon so that both sides cook evenly. Do not remove as soon as the strips begin to curl, as the bacon will still be limp and soggy. When every bit of fat has run off, the bacon will look crisp and be light brown. Then transfer to hot plate. If left longer in the pan, it may crumble and even burn.

Even Broiled Bacon

This tastes even better than the pan-fried. Put the slices of bacon on the wire rack over the dripping pan. The fire in this case should be fairly hot so that it broils quickly. The fat will run into the dripping pan from which it can later be collected and saved for future use. Let one side of the bacon get lightly browned, then turn to brown the other side.

Cooked in either of these ways, bacon is not a greasy food, and is a wholesome addition to many other, wise flat dishes. Eggs are not the only partner for bacon. Indeed, some food faddists insist that it's best with almost anything else!

There are a few combinations, however, that are not so well known and which deserve a trial. Bacon on bread makes an excellent sandwich. It makes a vast improvement on the green vegetables, such as string beans, spinach, squash, cabbage, and the coarse lettuce cooked with bacon make a delicious dish of greens. A peppy sauce for any starchy dish—like mashed potatoes, macaroni, or rice, is a blend of chopped bacon cooked with tomatoes, plus onion and green peppers.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, March 23.—The bare-back evening gown will be the Paris dressmaker's method of showing what good sun and air can do to a healthy body this summer.

Cut down to and even far below the waistline behind, and then around to the front with very rare, any sleeves at all—this will be the fashionable back for women during the warm months. But this means, naturally, for the smart women who watch very carefully the way the sun burns their fair skin and can acquire just the right golden tint. The important thing to remember, of course, is to adapt one's decolletage to the expanse of skin and sunburn. A strip of unburned skin is unappealing.

A most attractive bare-back evening gown in a dull turquoise-blue that crepe with fitted sleeves and high neck in front and a deep rounded decolletage in back to display a charming expanse of tan. Two crossed bands just below the nape of the neck form the original detail.

Another backless model comes in black and white pompadour taffeta with nothing at all behind save crossed suspenders of black velvet which hold things in place. Panels that are butterfly puffs at the

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes sold yearly. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

Lisbon, March 25.—Att'y. E. P. Speidel of Alliance, has asked that the divorce action filed several months ago by Havailla Davis against his wife Iza Davis be stricken from the docket because Mrs. Davis died.

I WILL TELL THE TRUTH ABOUT MY YEARS OF SUFFERING

There Is No Use Denying That For Years I Suffered With Various Disorders, But Now I Am Better and Glad to Tell My Friends Publicly About the Great Discovery That Did So Much For Me.

MRS. MARY H. GORDON

Mrs. Mary H. Gordon, well known and popular resident of 50 Smithsonian Street, Girard, O., gladly confessed that for years she has been in poor health due to stomach and liver disorders and constipation. At no time during the period of several years has Mrs. Gordon been free from these illnesses for any length of time. Indigestion, sourness and flatulence, and a tired worn-out feeling were always present. Bladder weakness was one of the outcomes of this condition.

She says, "It seems as though I was always grouchy and irritable because I suffered so much that it was hard for me to be pleasant." Through some very fortunate circumstance, Mrs. Gordon was advised to try the Indian formula, Owa-Ton-Na. She had tried so many other things, she was sick and tired of trying any more medicines, but when she was assured that Owa-Ton-Na was a simple mixture of roots, herbs, barks and berries, and when she was shown how successful the Owa-Ton-Na formula had proven among thousands of men and women right in this vicinity, she felt satisfied to give it a trial.

What a lucky thing it was for her for it seems she can't say enough for Owa-Ton-Na now. She says "I have good reason to recommend Owa-Ton-Na to all who are suffering as I suffered. Before I started taking Owa-Ton-Na, I can hardly remember a day when I felt 100% good, when I had any real youthful pep or a good solid night's sleep, but since the happy moment when I first started on Owa-Ton-Na, all that is changed."

"Today I have a great appetite. I sleep like a top. I go about my work more like a young woman than one who is 74 years old. Constipation, which has given me trouble for years is gone. I can now eat food that used to distress me and it doesn't seem to hurt my stomach at all. I am certainly glad to recommend Owa-Ton-Na and I can not say too much for it."

You cannot afford to be without Owa-Ton-Na. You, too, may have tried many medicines without good results. This fine old Indian remedy does not contain alcohol or harmful drugs, but acts as a gentle tonic and assists nature in the elimination of the poisons which cause so much suffering. In this way nature again has a chance to restore organs to normal function and bring about a renewed condition of health.

Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at Floding's, J. H. Lease and Bolger & French drug stores.—Adv.
